COMMITTEE I

PROPOSALS TO AMEND APPENDICES: Agarwood: Indonesia's proposal to include Aquilaria spp. and Gyrinops spp. in Appendix II (Prop.49) was adopted following a vote, with an annotation #1, specifying exemptions designating parts and derivatives (72 in favor, 9 against and 23 abstentions).

CAPTIVE BREEDING OPERATIONS: Delegates adopted proposed revisions to Res. Conf. 12.10 (Operations that breed Appendix I animal species for commercial purposes) (Com.I.8). The EU objected to the proposed revisions to Res. Conf. 12.10 and Res. Conf. 11.11 (Regulation of trade in plants) (Com.I.10), and decisions regarding artificially propagated plants (Com.I.9), requesting, inter alia, the PC to monitor effects of the revised definition of "artificially propagated" on Appendix I species and report to COP-14. SWITZERLAND withdrew its proposal on including species in Appendix III (Doc.61).

BUDGET: Delegates adopted the financial reports for 2002-2003, estimated expenditures for 2004-2005 and a document on external funding (Com.II.23) by consensus. Following a motion by Argentina, the budget for 2006-2008 was reopened. ARGENTINA proposed requesting the SC to collect arrears through innovative strategies that would help countries pay their contributions and, supported by PC Chair Clemente, AC Chair Althaus and BRAZIL, avoiding reducing AC and PC meetings by saving in other areas. The EU and the UK expressed support for a moderate increase in contributions, while MEXICO opposed. MALI highlighted that savings regarding documentation prevent developing countries' to effectively participate in meetings. KENYA proposed increasing contributions by 3% to maintain documentation costs and holding three AC and PC meetings in different locations. Delegates approved Argentina's proposal by consensus and Kenya's proposal with a vote of 89 in favor, 17 against and 19 abstentions. The decision on the budget was then adopted by consensus. The EU said the revised strategic vision should contribute to the WSSD 2010 target to significantly reduce biodiversity loss, including through improved CITES-CBD synergy. The US and NEW ZEALAND preferred that the SC consider improved CITES-CBD synergy. The BAHAMAS requested a reference to Small Island Developing States (SIDS) representation in the Working Group. IN THE CORRIDORS

As delegates wrapped up remaining Committee agenda items and reconvened in Plenary, there was a collective sigh of relief. Many delegates said the party is not over yet, pointing at several issues, particularly marine-related proposals, which may be reopened. Some believed that there was little chance that any proposal would be overturned, while others were busy working to make sure the initial results would stick.
